Description
Hi,
I seem to be having trouble subscribing to a mailing list.
The list is opensuse-buildservice mailing list. I've been trying to subscribe since last week, but none of the addresses I have tried seem to be working.
To subscribe, I'm sending an empty email to opensuse-buildservice+subscribe@opensuse.org
The two addresses are:
adam.bishop@jisc.ac.uk (operated by Mimecast)
adam@omega.org.uk (operated by Google)
I've also tried a couple of disposable email providers, and have not been able to subscribe with those either.
I've checked the mail server logs I have available on my side - as far as I can tell the list server is accepting my subscribe message, but I'm not seeing any messages originating from it in reply.
Thanks for any help you can offer,
Adam Bishop

- Private changed from Yes to No

There seems to be a general issue with the mailing list manager, we'll look into it.

Hi Adam,
thanks for letting us know. The issue was caused by some unintended apparmor profile updates. It was resolved yesterday.
