@mlin7442 isn't that a strong indication of a product regression if the network is down just one specific scenario?

https://openqa.opensuse.org/tests/863964#step/install_service/9 shows successful test run.

This could be a network issue however.
set as rejected.

It's not get fixed, it just wasn't a 100% reproducible failure on openQA. And I don't think this smells like a product bug.

See below the history of zdup 42.2/42.3 scenario.

@mlin7442 please handle as product issue. Sorry, QSF-u does not have enough capacity to look into this issue.
