Description

Observation

openQA test in scenario opensuse-Tumbleweed-JeOS-for-kvm-and-xen-x86_64-jeos-extra@64bit_virtio-2G fails in kdump_and_crash

Since the upgrade to 5.4.x, the kernel is no longer gz compressed but now comes as .xz compressed. Our test does not cope with that yet

Test suite description

Same as jeos, plus some more tests.

Reproducible

Fails since (at least) Build 20190311

Expected result

Last good: (unknown) (or more recent)

Further details

Always latest result in this scenario: latest

History

#1 - 2020-02-04 06:55 - okurz

This is an autogenerated message for openQA integration by the openqa_review script:

This bug is still referenced in a failing openQA test: jeos-extra@aarch64-HD24G
https://openqa.opensuse.org/tests/1162757

To prevent further reminder comments one of the following options should be followed:

1. The test scenario is fixed by applying the bug fix to the tested product or the test is adjusted
2. The openQA job group is moved to "Released"
3. The label in the openQA scenario is removed

- Subject changed from kdump_and_crash: kernel newly as .xz compressed to [kernel] kdump_and_crash: kernel newly as .xz compressed
- Assignee set to pcervinka
- Priority changed from Normal to High fails the same in Tumbleweed-DVD extra_tests_in_textmode: https://openqa.opensuse.org/tests/1172444#step/kdump_and_crash/64 pcervinka as test module maintainer, can you handle this?

yes, i will have a look
