BTW: When are we supposed to publish the online version of the docs on doc.opensuse.org?

Not sure if relevant, but from what I remember, the German version was never published on the website anyway. Only the English version was.

Given people's tendency to forget about openSUSE in their SLES/SLED doc edits, the doc-sle main branch may also need a bit of fixery before it becomes proper publishable with the openSUSE profiling. Though maybe that has already happened this time.

Seems like we need to rework the task itself then. Stefan.

This task will have to be reworked for 15.4
