Description
I saw another pair of openqaworker3 host up alert emails. The fact that it's a pair is suspicious enough, and I've also seen these last a few days ago. So that probably counts as flaky. [Alerting] openqaworker3: host up alert No data received for pings from worker to central host, likely host is down (or split network). See https://progress.opensuse.org/issues/71098 for details Metric name NoData Value null rejecting as duplicate of #78010 as it has no further information than that it happened again, ok?
